Project Title: Tea Website

This site will be one long page with a static navigation bar that can take the user to a certain section of the page. There is enough content on the “Tea” Wikipedia to give an overview of the different aspects of tea, but not quite enough to warrant multiple pages for each section unless more research is done.

- Home Page
 - Overview of what the site is about + imagery and navigation
- History of Tea
 - Timeline of where tea originated and how it spread to the rest of the world
- Types of Tea/Classification
 - Different types of tea and how they might look
- Tea Cultivation, Production, & Processing
 - Exploring how tea is made from harvest to consumption
- Tea Culture
 - Explaining various cultural practices that involve tea around the world
- Sources
 - Sources will likely be listed in an unobtrusive section on the page, such as in the footer
